Government Monti cancels Sardinia from urban free zones.

Continues the deep sleep of Sardinian parliamentarians. Regional councilors, syndicated entrepreneurs and also the new supporters of the free zone. On Thursday 4 October, the Government Monti approved the decree Sviluppo bis, with the return of urban free zones. Small businesses in high-risk areas will benefit from exemptions from taxes on income, Irap, taxes on real estate and contributions on wages. Exemptions should reach up to 200 thousand euros. The new measures will focus not on the 22 initial ones but on 12 cities, in order: in Campania (Mondragone, Naples and Torre Annunziata), in Puglia (Lecce, Taranto and Andria), Calabria (Rossano, Crotona and Lamezia), Sicily (Erice, Catania and Gela). Sardinia is excluded, it does not re-enter Quartu Sant'Elena, Iglesias and Cagliari. Instead, Sardinia has been cancelled. Compliments.

But Monti perhaps has reason, with the support of his majority. Sardinia is not the South. Instead, it is not even Italy. When do we abandon this mafia state?

Now that everyone is warned, do not confuse the Free Zone with Urban Free Zones, which are two fundamentally different economic development measures.
